The secret of the Olympias' defeat in the game with the Pontiacs at Broad-Street Park yesterday afternoon was their inability to connect with Miller, the Pontiacs' pitcher.
The run of the Olympias was made in the second inning, when Ford made a wild throw.
Miller pitched great ball, striking out sixteen men.

PROMISE OF GREAT SPORT

Crack Thoroughbreds to Meet at Saratoga.

HERMIS IS CHERRY RIPE

Mr. Thomas' High Priced Horse Said to Be Ready to Show Championship Form Again—Sad Death of Oom Paul.

BY MANHATTAN.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The summer meeting at Jamaica, which closed to-day, furnished really better sport than was anticipated. With most of the best jockeys and nearly all the best horses away, not much was expected of the meeting, but, as a matter of fact, most of the races filled well, and while there was nothing sensational, there were good racing, well contested finishes and the patrons of the track got the worth of their money. There were some rather curious reversals of form, but this is becoming so common nowadays that it excites comparatively little comment, except on the part of those who happen to be on the horses at the wrong time.

And now for Saratoga. Unless all signs fail, the New which begins there Monday will be a record breaker in every sense of the word. It has been many years since such a fine aggregation of thoroughbred race horses has been gotten together on a single track. The prime sport began at the very start. The first race Monday will be the Saratoga Handicap, and, bar accidents, Waterboy and McChesney will for the first time try each other's mettle. Both of these grand race horses are in prime condition now, and it is working hard to run him and then he gotten as to which is the better. Odom will have the mount on Waterboy, which means he will be ridden as he should be, and it is probable Bullman or Redfern will go the western crack.

There is a good deal of quiet talk that Odom is rounding out in form again. It will be remembered that it was at Saratoga last year that Mr. Thomas' horse showed championship form, and it would not be surprising if he repeated this year. Trainer Karlick is working faithfully for him and has given him a whole lot of hard work. He professes to be satisfied with the work he is doing and announces him a sure starter. Hermis is taking kindly to the work, and his speed, if he does show up in his last year's form Monday he will add much to the galaxy of nations.

Rumor has been current that a movement on the part of McChesney to leave the ground that Sam Hildreth is part owner of him. Hildreth, it will be recalled, was McChesney's owner in his two-year-old career, but he sold him to Durnell and Herz at New Orleans, last winter. Durnell and Herz were at sword's point with Hildreth, each bidding the other's horses up in selling races and passing each other by at the track with out giving the time of day. The horse was sold to Sam Hildreth, who retained Durnell as a trainer until after the Montgomery handicap, in which McChesney was badly beaten. Then "Big Mac" was turned over to Hildreth. According to the story current, Hildreth entered into partnership with Sam Hildreth and the latter entered the horse in Eastern stakes wholly in his name because Hildreth was not in good standing with the stewards of the Jockey Club. Inasmuch as Mr. Smathers denies absolutely that anybody has himself any interest in McChesney, there is probably nothing more in the suggested protest than what is picturesquely called on the track "hot air."

It was a grievous disappointment to Sam Hildreth when the Jockey Club unanimously turned down his application, made through Mr. Smathers, for a license to train.
It is said the refusal is intended as a retaliation of the stories that the match race between McChesney and Waterboy had been called off at Brighton by Hildreth because the latter had been reinstated from a high source in the great race was not run until Saratoga.
Hildreth lost his license several years ago because of a personal encounter with John E. Madden. Rumor has it that turf politics had much to do with the turning down of Hildreth.

Those who have seen the horse at Saratoga are much surprised with the picture, winner of the American Derby. He is fine and coltish, with plenty of speed and stamina. It appears as if he is anything, and is being backed for the Travers. In the opinion of many experts he will go to the post a strong favorite and should win the race.
Charlie Brossman was a visitor at Jamaica this week. He said: "Western horses have been doing fairly well in the east, but we haven't seen many of them race won by a horse from the West. McChesney will take care of some of the top notches in the handicap division. Savable will beat more high-class horses than will beat him, and Dick Welles is going to be hard to beat, especially in sprint races. He's a Chucatanunda at seven furlongs."

"Then there are a lot of others that will be heard from before the Saratoga meeting is over. You may recall that Hermis was a western horse and was so regarded until Mr. Ziegler sold him to Mr. Bell at Saratoga."

It has been remarked at the number of multi-millionaires who are going into the racing game and are seen constantly at the tracks. Here are some of those who are expected to race, or less constant attendants at the Saratoga track: Wm. C. Whitney, who is seldom absent when a big race is run; J. B. Haggin, Julius Felschman, James H. Keene, and W. B. Lewis, two westerners; the Belmonts, Perry and August; Richard T. Wilson, Jr., S. B. Brown, J. G. Pollans, J. B. Widener, P. Ambrose Clark, Frederick Gehring, J. D. Dwyer, David Alden, P. H. and Thomas Hiltchcock and W. S. Fanshawe, to which list soon will be added Alfred G. Vanderbilt and others.

Among the prominent westerners now at Saratoga is S. G. Morton, who recently arrived with a string of seven thoroughbreds. Mr. Morton is charmed with the outlook at Saratoga and expects to see great sport. He is a great believer in McChesney, like all the westerners. In fact, if Mr. Smathers' horse should be beaten

Bondage was Doped Before Entering His Race.

LUCIEN APPLEBY IN FORM

Good Colt, Proceed, One of the Best Two-Year-Olds in Training, Has Won Big Purse for His Owner.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
(By Chlp.)

CHICAGO, ILL., August 1.—The sensation of the week's racing at Hawthorne was the discovery that Bondage, favorite in the July selling stakes, had been drugged and his speed lulled. Jim Arthur, owner of the horse, was one of the first to come forward and offer to investigate it, and the investigation showed that two of his employees, which caused him to break out in perspiration in his warm-up, and so affected his speed in the race that he finished absolutely last. Both men at first denied all knowledge of the horse being doped, but upon being closely questioned and frightened, they admitted they had given Bondage two, two or three hours before the race, but no persuasion could induce them to reveal the names of the parties who engaged them to stupefy the horse. Both have been ruled off the track for life, and it is not probable that they will ever be reinstated. They reveal the names of the investigators of the plot.

Lucien Appleby showed his first return to his last year's form when he captured Hawthorne's greatest event, the Squire Handicap, after a furious drive for the last sixteenth of a mile by the short margin of a nose from the Conqueror. The victory of Durnell and Herz was a most popular and pleasing one to the public, as the horse was a well backed favorite.

Clayton's clever win of the July selling stakes showed that the son of Mirthful is a far better horse than he was at first supposed to be. Behind him finished a field of handicap horses, and the public that from now on he will be hard to beat.

A GOOD ONE.
Captain S. B. Brown's good colt Proceed won the Competition Stakes, the Vernal and the Lakewood Handicap. In the Competition stakes he carried 125 pounds, and beat a good field over a heavy track. He is by far the largest winner in money for his owner of any two-year-old that has worked well in the country.

The finding of Gold Heels, the winner of the Suburban and Brighton Handicap, and also of the Brighton cup of 1902, on a farm at Greenvale, Ill., is considered by his admirers a very lucky one, and removes all doubt as to his whereabouts. It is also of particular interest to horsemen, as he will no doubt continue the strain of blood in the stud of his illustrious sire, The Bard. Gold Heels was spirited away from E. J. Arnold and Company's stock when that "Get Poor Quick" concern was attacked by the sheriff. The sheriff took it to Greenvale, but instead of saving him, he had another horse with Gold Heels' blanket, which had his name upon it.

V. HECKLER WINNER OF GOLD MEDAL

He Captured the Hunter Arms Company Trophy on Yesterday.

The low, dark, hanging clouds and the sprinkling rain, at times, did not deter a fair attendance of shooters from facing the traps yesterday at the regular shoot of the East End Gun Club.

Some good scores were made, "L. C. Smith" breaking forty-seven out of fifty, one of the best scores of the season on these grounds.

V. Heckler, with his handicap, won the Hunter Arms Company gold medal. The member winning it the greatest number of times during the season is to become the owner of it.

This medal has been contested for three times and has been won by three different clubs. It is a foregone conclusion that no one has a "clinch on it." A new shooter joined the club and showed up fairly well. This club is taking on new members with care and has, probably, the largest membership of any club of any club in the State.

The committee to arrange the big tournament has completed its work, and on the morning of the 15th of August, promptly at 9:30 o'clock, Tom Kelly, the Maryland trap shot of the Peters Cartridge Company, will announce in stentorian tones through the megaphone the first squad to race the traps in the biggest, most elaborate, as well as the most exciting trap shoot ever pulled off in the Old Dominion.

Programmes will be mailed to every shooter in Virginia and to a number of secretaries in North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Maryland.
Twenty-five targets in each event; handicaps allowed and added to scores in first event:

Dr. Miller	First	Second
Smith, A. M.	17	13
Smith, L. C.	23	20
Heckler, V.	15	15
Smith, B. H.	17	16
McLeland, W. B.	17	16

Baker	18	12
Coleman	20	16
Robinson	19	23
et al.	17	16
Harris	11	13
Dr. Campbell	10	12

Northside Shoot.
Those who faced the traps yesterday had to contend with a high wind and a dreary weather, but with a few shooters, they out and passed the afternoon very pleasantly. Brauer won the high gun medal, and the Robin Hood medal went to Hazlegrove.

Mr. Loewer came out late and shot twenty-five extras, but he was not in his usual form, having just gotten home from a trip.
